

Worksheets Partner Activity

Tips to reduce your ecological footprint and protect the environment

Christine Röll

Tips to reduce your ecological footprint and protect the environment

Partner A

How can you change the bad habits that harm the environment shown in the pictures? There are some ideas on your partner's sheet. Make sentences using the model below. What good habits do you already have? Can you think of others?

Instead of + verb + -ing, + imperative

Example: Instead of leaving the tap running when you brush your teeth, turn it off.

Bad habits

 throw away broken things
 not turn off electric devices		use conventional battery chargers
		 buy energy based on nuclear power or fossil fuels

Tips to reduce your ecological footprint and protect the environment

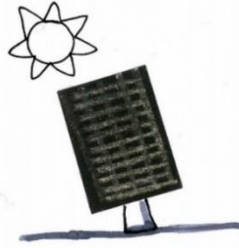

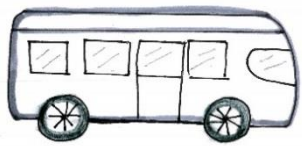

Partner B

On your partner's sheet there are habits that are harmful to the environment. How can you change these habits? Use the following ideas to give advice and form sentences according to the model shown below. Which ones do you already practice? Can you think of others?

Instead of + verb + -ing, + imperative

Example: Instead of leaving the tap running when you brush your teeth, turn it off.

Good habits

	 buy green power		repair broken things
 use solar chargers	always bring a reusable shopping bag or coffee cup
 buy seasonal and local fruits and vegetables	Unplug electrical devices 